

Amy Burt (She/Her) is Wildlands Trust's Programming Coordinator. She graduated from Unity Environmental University with a bachelor's degree in adventure therapy and adventure-based environmental education. She is certified as a Wilderness First Responder and has been facilitating group hikes across New England for 5+ years. At Wildlands Trust, she oversees programming throughout their regional service area and proudly leads their Brockton-based youth programs. She is grateful for a dedicated team of volunteer hike leaders and ambassadors, which she supports. Before joining Wildlands in 2024, Amy was the Program Manager of Outdoor Experience and STEM with the Girl Scouts of Southeastern New England, and an Open Air Classroom Educator with the University of Maine's 4-H Camp and Learning Center at Tanglewood and Blueberry Cove.
